What we are working on

Reading: Students studied author Kevin Henkes by reading several of his books including Chrysanthemum, Lilly's Plastic Purple Purse, and Chester's Way to determine their central message, lesson or moral.

Skills: We continued to focus on short vowels e, o, u.

Math: Mathematicians use their knowledge of basic facts and place value to solve problems with larger numbers knowing that $5 - 2 = 3$ enables the student to easily subtract $65 - 2$

Writing: Writers worked to write 3 connected sentences in logical cause and effect order using transition words and vivid verbs.

Social Studies: We collaborated to identify problems within our community and school. The students brainstormed possible solutions to determine how we can be responsible community members.
