What we are working on

Reading: Student collaborated to read and perform plays. They acknowledged differences in the points of view of characters, including by speaking in a different voice for each character when reading dialogue aloud.

Writing: Writers published their 'How-To' pieces and free wrote in their journals.

Math: Mathematicians reviewed using fractions (halves, thirds, and fourths). Students also reviewed telling time in 5 minute increments and determined elapsed time.

Social Studies: Students reviewed map features by creating their own maps.

Homework

Students should continue to read and visit the AR website to practice Math Facts in a Flash...
