What we are working on

Reading: We began our non-fiction unit by identifying attributes of non-fiction and using the attributes to comprehend different texts.

Skills: We worked on short and long vowels.

Math: Students continued their measurement unit by measuring with different units and using rulers as number lines.

Writing: Writers continued working with connected sentences. Students also continued to work on planning, writing, and editing a personal narrative.

Science: Second Grade Scientists learned about the stages of the Rock Cycle and began to study the properties of dirt.

Homework
